our planet's
greatest resource,
Human Beings.

Did you know a baby's heart begins to beat at 21 days after fertilization? page 6

"I thought I had to have an abortion..." page 4

A recent study of post-abortive American women found that 60% are more likely to be at risk of long-term clinical depression. page 4

Do you understand the biology of why abortion increases the risk of breast cancer? page 8

What are the long-term effects of destroying our greatest resource? page 9

The truth about birth control and how it works. page 5

Every day in the U.S., 3,315 babies are thrown away—their lives wasted by someone else's choice. If we really care about saving the planet, let's do something about saving our greatest resource—human beings! Killing and throwing away 50 million babies since 1973 makes the United States one of the premier abusers of the human resource.² No country has more permissive abortion laws than the U.S.—abortion is legal through all nine months of pregnancy for any reason.³
